

The Commercial Press, Ltd.

Joint Construction of Green Silk Roads: Social, Economic and Environmental Context 《共建绿色丝绸之路》

Author: Liu Weidong
ISBN: 978-7-100-17176-2

This book is an important achievement of the "Silk Road Environment" project of the Chinese Academy of Sciences, which is co-authored by dozens of Chinese and foreign scholars. The book first proposes a strategic approach to building a Green Silk Road based on a review and analysis of policies, literature and reports, and then analyzes in-depth the areas of resource and environmental carrying capacity, climate change, poverty reduction and sustainable livelihoods, and selects nine construction cases and typical countries for in-depth study. The book is richly illustrated and systematically explores the path of building the Green Silk Road from construction cases to key areas and countries, making it an indispensable book for an in-depth understanding of the construction of the "Belt and Road".

Scientific and Technological Support for High-Quality Development of "Belt and Road" Construction 《“一带一路”建设高质量发展的科技支撑成果》

Author: Liu Weidong
ISBN: 978-7-100-22510-6

This book is an important achievement of the "Silk Road Environment" project of the Chinese Academy of Sciences, and is jointly authored by dozens of researchers. Firstly, the book systematically reveals the resource and environmental bases and socio-economic characteristics of the regions along the Belt and Road in terms of their resource and environmental carrying capacity, mineral and oil and gas resources, natural disasters, ecosystems, etc. Secondly, the book analyzes the technical support for the construction of the Green Silk Road through four case studies. It is richly illustrated and is an important reference document for scientific understanding of the regions along the route and exploring their green development paths. It also aims to provide decision-making support for the construction of the "Belt and Road" through these results.

A Sincere Wish: Essays on Poetry by Ye Jiaying 《一瓣心香——叶嘉莹先生诗词论稿》

Author: Ye Jiaying
ISBN: 978-7-100-20633-4

The book is a collection of essays on poetry by Ye Jiaying. It narrates Ye's connection with lotus flowers and Buddhism, explores the origin and beauty of the Chinese ci form, discusses the influence of Sino-Indian cultural exchange on Chinese poetry, and examines the relationship between Western literary theories and Chinese ci studies. Towards the end of the book, it also records the dreams in Ye's poems and the poems within his dreams, vividly presenting the poetic journey of his life at the age of ninety.

Hundred and Twenty Questions on the Study of the Forbidden City 《故宫学百廿题》

Author: Zheng Xinmiao
ISBN: 978-7-100-22786-5

The book is a selection of topics related to the study of the Forbidden City, consisting of the theory, the objects of study, the publications, and the known researchers. This book systematically and meticulously combed the main points and core of the study of the Forbidden City, a comprehensive introduction to this burgeoning and full of unlimited prospects for the development of new disciplines, can be regarded as a study of the Forbidden City thesaurus-type toolkit.

